Heavy penalties recommended for 'panty raiders'

Penalties ranging from expulsion from college to $100 fines were recommended for so-called 'panty-raid' offenders to Student Council Tuesday night.

The recommendations came from a special committee made up of the presidents of SC, Women's League, and Men's Union and the Chief Justice of Student Court. The committee told Council members that offenders in such incidents should be classified into several groups, with maximum and minimum penalties determined by Student Court after a trial.

For "active leaders", the committee said a maximum penalty of expulsion and a minimum penalty of from a $25 to $100 fine should be given; for someone caught inside a residence hall during raids, a similar penalty; and for other participants, a maximum penalty of from a $25 to $100 fine and a minimum penalty of social probation, car privilege loss, and loss of athletic privileges, or all three.

A special committee of Council is studying the recommendations, and a report will be made at the Council's next meeting on April 21, when a decision on whether or not to institute the recommendations will be made.

Student Council joins National Student Association

The EMC Student Council voted Tuesday night to become affiliated with the National Student Association, an organization of student governing bodies encompassing the whole nation.

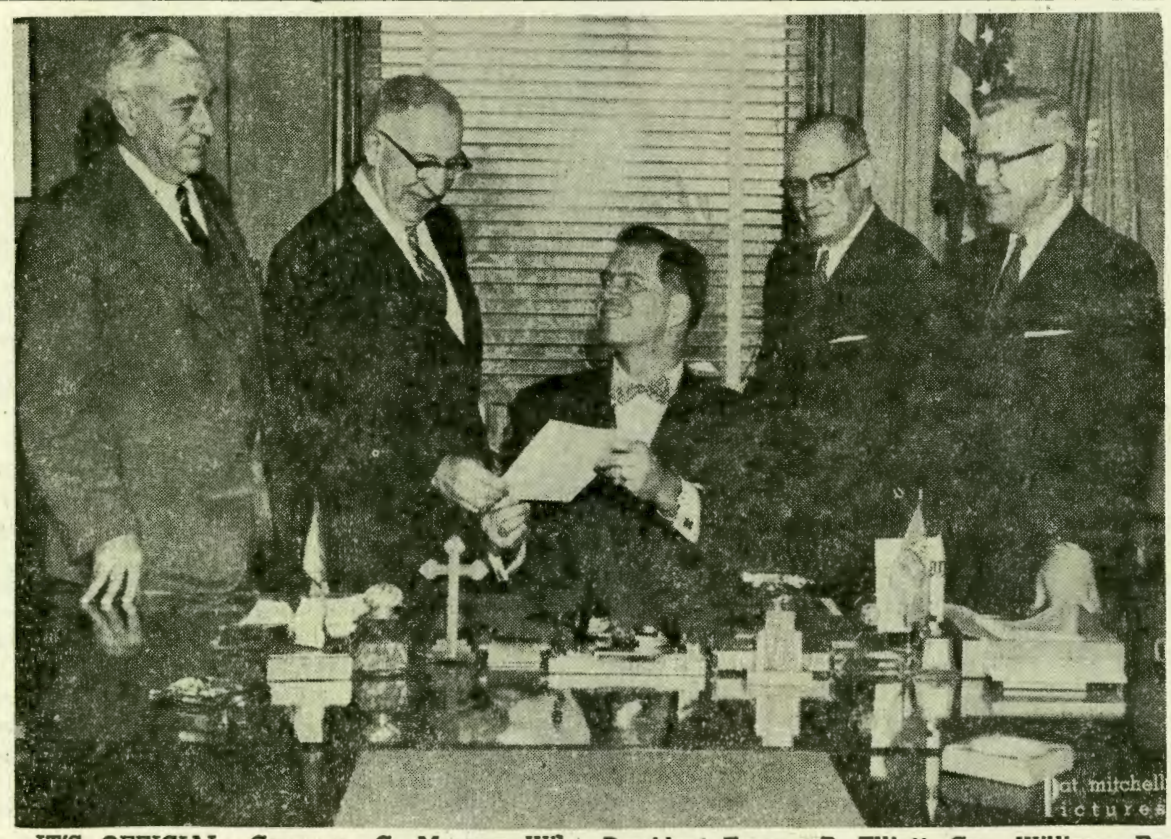
Approximately 380 colleges and universities are presently affiliated with the NSA. Nationwide conferences, student research and publicity concerning student problems are among the Association's functions.

Schools, firms set interviews

Twenty-one firms and 81 school systems have scheduled interviews with prospective Eastern Michigan College graduates, the EMC Placement Office announced this week.

There are approximately 130 candidates for June degrees at Eastern Michigan in the field of liberal arts, science and business administration, according to Richard J. Nisbet, Director of Placement, with 443 candidates for teaching degrees with various types of state certificates.

Nisbet noted that positions in education have increased greatly this spring over last year at this time. On the other hand, he reported that openings in business and industry, while more numerous than last spring, are fewer in number than the spring of 1957.



IT'S OFFICIAL: Governor G. Mennen Williams signs the bill creating Eastern Michigan University. Looking on at the signing ceremonies, which took place in Lansing last Wednesday, are (left to right): State Senator Lewis G. Christman, President Eugene B. Elliott, Gov. Williams, Representative James F. Warner, and State Board of Education member Chris H. Magnusson. University status for both Eastern and Central Michigan Colleges becomes effective June 1.

Campus election date nearing; one week to file petitions

With a nearing April 10 deadline for filing for office, nominating petitions for all-campus elections were being circulated this week for all student government offices.

Vacancies to be filled in next month's election include the presidency of the Student Council, 15 off-campus Council representatives, Student Court justices and a Court secretary, Men's Union president and other positions, officers of Women's League, Women's Recreation Association and various residence hall positions.

All candidates must have at least a 2.00 scholastic average, and those on a probationary status are ineligible to run.

Petition signers were warned this week by the Student Council elections committee not to sign more than one petition for the same office, except in cases where more than one person will be elected to the office involved.

The Council also told petition circulators to "do everything possible to assure yourself that a prospective signer is a qualified voter of the organization for which the office is to be filled."

Candidates will be certified after review by the Student Council election commission and a list of names will be issued by April 15. Elections are scheduled for April 22.

Petitions are available at the McKenny Hall information desk and at Dean of Student Activities Ralph Gilden's office, 105 Pierce Hall. They must be returned to Dean Gilden's office by 4:00 p.m., April 10, with the following number of signatures:

Student Council president, 100 minimum and 125 maximum; Off-Campus Student Council representatives, Student Court Justices, Student Court secretary and Men's Union officers and positions, 50 minimum and 75 maximum; Men's Union president, 75 minimum and 100 maximum.

Offer $125 in writing contest

Cash prizes totaling $125 are being offered by Concepts magazine in an all-campus writing contest beginning this week.

Winning poetry, short stories, and essays, with a $25 first prize in each category, will be published in the campus literary magazine this fall or next spring. Any material must be accompanied by an entry blank in order to be considered for the contest.

Entry blanks will appear in future editions of the Eastern Echo. Material already turned in to the magazine but not accompanied by a blank should be discussed with the editor.

Contest rules will appear in the April 6 edition of the Echo. Deadine for contest material for the spring issue is May 1.

Any further information about the magazine and the contest may be secured from the editor, Mrs. Eleanor Dudley, at Hunter 2-9535.

Attention veterans

Veterans should sign March certifications Monday, April 6.

Four named "distinguished"

The EMC Military Science department has announced the designation as "Distinguished Military Students" of four new senior cadets. The new D. M. S.'s are Robert Opiteck, William Stephens, Paul Spitale and Tom Green. At the time of graduation, a D. M. S. may be designated a Distinguished Military Graduate with the opportunity of competing for a Regular Army commission.

An orientation meeting was recently held for wives, fiancees and sweethearts of advanced cadets at the home of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Pratt A. Warren.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint them with military life and to answer any questions.

Assembly lauds top students

Eastern Michigan College's honor students — all those with a 3.00 cumulative scholastic index and above — were honored at the semi-annual Honors Convocation Monday morning in Pease Auditorium.

Greetings from President Eugene B. Elliott to the students and a "Glimpse at Russian Education" by Blair Stewart, Dean of Oberlin College's School of Arts and Sciences, highlighted the event.

Dean Stewart pointed out that the "highly monistic society" in Russia contrasted sharply with the "pluralistic society" in the United States as far as education was concerned, as he reported on his last summer's tour through the Soviet Union with a party of educators.

"In America we have both a public and private education system, and a tremendous amount of people have an interest and influence in education," Stewart said. "In Russia, education is just one part of a broad program for molding the minds of men and furthering the aims of the state."

Stewart's talk was the eleventh John M. Munson Address, an annual endowment on this campus.

A musical program, featuring Sonata sopra Sancta Maria ora pro nobis from The Vespers of 1610, was presented by the EMC Ensemble of Women's Voices and Brass Instruments, directed by Robert Waterstripe.

Student writes in national magazine

Barbara Czanko, an EMC junior, is the author of an article in the March issue of The Clearing House, a nationally-circulated educational magazine.

The outside cover of the periodical carries Miss Czanko's name and her article is accompanied by the following editor's note: "Miss Czanko writes of Miss Berg, whose personality and character influenced her to become a teacher. Although Miss Czanko is a college junior and is only on the way to becoming a teacher, the example of Miss Berg is a beacon to guide her to a teaching career. There is a splendor to this article, we believe. The author attends Eastern Michigan College in Ypsilanti."

WUS drive nears $200 mark; students may still contribute

With funds still coming in, nearly $200 was reported collected from Eastern Michigan students for the annual World University Service drive this week.

A total of $185 was contributed up to Tuesday, most of it donated at last Wednesday's all-campus Tag Day.

Money from the EMC campus will be used with that collected at colleges throughout Michigan and the rest of the nation to aid underprivileged students in all parts of the world. Funds this year are being funneled to Algerian refugee students, displaced Hungarian students and African projects.

According to Alan Gibson, chairman of this year's drive, students may still leave contributions with Mrs. Menzi or Mrs. Erickson at Starkweather Hall.

"We want to thank those who gave in order that less fortunate students will have books to study from, food to eat, shelter from the elements and medicine to combat the effects of disease," Gibson stated.

He singled out Alpha Phi Omega and Omega Phi Alpha, the campus service fraternity and sorority, for special praise, along with Circle K and the Student Religious Association. All of the organizations aided in organizing the drive, collecting donations and publicizing the WUS program.

1959 Selective Service Student Qualification

The Selective Service college qualification test will be given to college men April 30, 1959, State Selective Service Headquarters has announced.

The April 30 test will be the only test offered for the 1958-59 school year. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight Thursday, April 9, 1959. The test will be administered by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

Scores made on the test are used by local draft boards as one guide in considering requests for deferment from military service to continue studies. The test will be given at 28 Michigan colleges and universities.

Application cards and instructions are available from Selective Service local boards. Men planning to take the test should make early application at the nearest local board office for detailed information and necessary forms and materials.

Student deferments, which test scores have helped determine since 1951, have been a major factor in insuring the nation's supply of specialized manpower. Many students deferred under this program are todays scientists, engineers and specialists in other technical fields and in the social sciences, teaching and humanities.

Since only one test will be offered this school year, students wishing to take the test must obtain 1959 application cards and instructions from any local board. Use of old application cards may result in students missing the test.

Letters to the Editor

Thank you

To the Editor:

We wish to thank the student and faculty residents of Pine Grove Terrace and the men of Pi Kappa Phi for the aid offered at a time when it was most needed.

It has been comforting to know that we have the privilege of being surrounded by friends and even strangers who, despite their own personal problems and at their own expense and time, left nothing unoffered.

"Passing Through"

National esteem

by C. W. Cheng

"We have a nation whose achievements in most fields deserve our respect and loyalty, and we as citizens should promote a stronger administration for our country's accomplishments."

The above statement is a summary of a few remarks made by Elizabeth Green, professor of music at the University of Michigan, following the showing of some excellent slide films of Russia recently.

However, Miss Green indicated that the people of our country do not possess this feeling of esteem which she described, and which feeling she says does exist in Russia.

Her thoughts were extremely penetrating, but unfortunately too many people approach this question of respect and loyalty in an erroneous manner.

The answer is not to be found in the glorified patriotism and the bigoted prejudices which are prevalent among such organizations as the American Legion, Daughters of the American Revolution and Hearst publications, nor should we treat our great works of art with such an inattentive attitude.

Instead, we must not only praise the feats of our past advancements and achievements, but conversely we must attempt to understand where the strength and the fortitude of the people come.

We need not follow the zealous patriots who display honor to the rebels of former times and thwart the generating critics of today who use freedom in the style of the past rebels who built our nation.

We should also imitate stronger tribute to the fine structures of our country by maintaining a clean atmosphere wherever it is feasible.

Hurons win at Denison Invitational, are losers in Cleveland Relays

by Ken Balcoff

In action last weekend, the trackmen of EMC did very well for themselves in the Dennison Invitational. The brightest spot for the Hurons was a record setting eight lap sprint relay.

The sprint relay team composed of Levi Simpson, Ray Campbell, Carl Krieger, and Hayes Jones set a new meet record of 2:07.6, eclipsing the old record of 2:07.7, also set by Eastern Michigan. In the distance medley the Hurons broke another record, but only managed to finish second behind Western Michigan, which turned in a time of 10:27.8. Mauri Jormakka, Gurney Beach, Doug Carroll, and Campbell finished at 10:29.

Mile relay men Bob Wright, Jormakka, Campbell, and Simpson were fifth-place finishers. Bill Stephens finished third in the 55-yard dash while Hayes Jones broke the tape in 5.9. Jones' time was one-tenth of a second off the meet record which he jointly holds with Ira Murchasen of Western Michigan. Jones was also victorious in the 55-yard high hurdles with a 6.7 in that event to tie the record.

To round out the Eastern scoring at Denison, Al Day took a fourth in the shot put with a distance of 47'11". The Huron's best pole vaulter, Jim Robinson, went over the bar at 13' 6¾". This was not good enough for a first, however, as Jim Gibson of Michigan vaulted 14' 2¼" and walked off with the honors in that department.

The preceeding night, at the Cleveland Relays, the cindermen did not fare too well. In three events entered not one first place finish was recorded. Hayes Jones did the best job of keeping Eastern's name from being dragged through the "cinders." Jones finished second to Lee Calhoun who set a meet record in the 55-yard high hurdles with a marking of 6.1. Jones was just shaded in this event in the same fashion that he took Calhoun at New York earlier this year in the Knights of Columbus Relays. This is undoubtedly why Hayes considers Calhoun his toughest opponent this year.

Another meeting of these two great hurdlers will probably take place this weekend when Jones will compete in the Chicago Daily News Relays. Jones will be able to go to Chicago because his expenses will be payed by the Chicago Daily News.

Eastern was entered in only two other events at Cleveland, the mile relay and the college division of the two-mile relay. The mile relay made perhaps the worst showing it has made this year. This event featured a sparkling fifth place finish in a field of five. Central Michigan took the event.

The two-mile relay was better as the EMC group, including Doug Carroll, Gurney Beach, Mauri Jormakka, and Don Taylor finished fourth. Third place in this event went to Central. Taking the second spot was Loyola. A squad of four from Western Michigan broke the tape with a new meet record of 7.44.
